BY BHUMIKA NANDIVADEKAR, SYBAF B

India's Chandrayaan-3 mission is set to begin exploring an area of the moon which has water and ice that could be a resource for future missions.

Two visitors from India – a lander named Vikram and a rover named Pragyan – landed in the southern polar region of the moon on 23rd, August 2023. The two robots, from the mission named Chandrayaan-3, make India the first country to ever reach this part of the lunar surface of the moon in one piece – and only the fourth country ever to land on the moon.

"We have achieved a soft landing on the moon," S. Somanath, the chairman of the Indian Space Research Organization, said after a roar ripped through the ISRO compound just past 6 p.m. local time. "India is on the moon."

"Chandrayaan-3's triumph mirrors the aspirations and capabilities of 1.4 billion Indians," Mr. Modi said when the landing was complete, declaring the event as "the moment for new, developing India." Prayers were offered for the mission's success at Hindu temples, Sikh Gurdwaras and Muslim mosques. Schools held special ceremonies and organised live viewings of the moon landing, with an official YouTube video of the event racking up tens of millions of views. The police band in the city of Mumbai, India's commercial and entertainment hub, sent a "special musical tribute" to the scientists, performing a popular patriotic song "Saare Jahan Se Accha".

A sharp retort was given to NYTs this racial post from 28th September, 2014.

The successful landing of Chandrayaan-3 ignites national pride and boosts economic growth. It showcases India's technological capabilities on a global stage, attracting attention and collaboration from around the world.

The country is also working on launching a solar observatory called Aditya-L1 in early September, and later, an Earth observation satellite built jointly with NASA. India is also planning a follow-up to its recently concluded Mars orbiter mission. India is preparing its first astronaut mission, called Gaganyaan. But the project, which aims to send three Indian astronauts to space on the country's own spacecraft, has faced delays, and ISRO has not announced a date.

The spot on the Moon where Chandrayaan-3's lander Vikram touched down will be known as 'Shiv Shakti Point', Prime Minister Narendra Modi announced on 26th August, 2023, while addressing the scientists of ISRO in Bengaluru. "The Shakti; in the name 'Shiv Shakti' comes from the hard work, inspiration and empowerment of the women scientists," he added. Additionally, the point on the Moon where the Chandrayaan-2 crash landed in 2019 has been named 'Tiranga Point'.

INDIA TO IMPOSE BAN ON IMPORT OF LAPTOPS

BY SAHIL THAKUR, TYBAF C

The market size of Laptops in India is of around $8 billion annually and around 65% of the units are imported in India this shows the significance of electronic sector in India. More than 75 per cent of India's total $ 5.33 billion imports of laptops and personal computers in 2022-23 was from the neighbouring Country.

WHAT DOES THE LAPTOP IMPORT BANNING IMPLY?

The new laws would now require companies to acquire an import licence. This might prevent new PC and laptop models from being released simultaneously in Indian markets.

"The said Restriction shall not be applicable to Imports under Baggage Rules, as amended from time to time," stated the Ministry of Commerce and Industry.

WHY INDIA BANNED THE IMPORT OF LAPTOPS ?

The government sees a clear opportunity for Indian manufacturers to fill the gap, since electronics imports, including laptops, tablets, and personal computers, accounted for $19.7 billion between April and June 2023, expanding at a rate of roughly 6% each year. Government wants to encourage the domestic manufacturing sector.

In order to lessen dependency on imports, particularly from China. Laptops, tablets, and personal computers make for approximately 1.5% of total yearly imports, with roughly half of these products originating in China. In the past, India successfully stimulated local output by imposing high tariffs on things such as mobile phones, resulting in $38 billion in mobile phone production last year.

How will it affect the companies?

Global tech hardware giants like HP, Dell, Acer, Samsung, LG, Apple and Lenovo have a substantial presence in the Indian laptop industry, with a sizable proportion of their products imported directly from China. This restriction may drive these corporations to look into opportunities for local production in order to continue efficiently serving the Indian market.

List of Indian Laptop companies:

AGB, HCL, LAVA, Smarton India, Micromax Informatics, iBall, RDP.

List of foreign Company laptops Banned in India:

Apple, Lenovo, Dell, Acer, Samsung, HP, LG.

So, As the government imposed immediate restrictions on import of laptops in India. We can the Indian Consumer paying more money to the Indian laptop manufacturing companies as it wil create monopoly for Indian companies. Consumers will also face some software and hardware issue as the Indian companies can directly match the level of international laptop companies.

SHEIN TO RE-ENTER IN INDIA

BY TANISHA WADEKAR, SYBAF C

SHEIN was among a slew of Chinese apps that India banned in 2020 following border clashes with China.

About SHEIN : SHEIN is a Chinese online fast fashion retailer domiciled and headquartered in Singapore, founded in Nanjing, China in October 2008 as ZKKO by entrepreneur Chris Xu, SHEIN grew to become the world's largest fashion retailer as of 2022.

SHEIN is an app for Android devices to browse this company's extensive catalog. Want to check out the latest fashion trends and revamp your wardrobe, this tool offers thousands of outfits that perfectly suit your style.

SHEIN'S TIE-UP WITH RELIANCE INDUSTRIES LTD :

SHEIN, the Chinese online fast fashion behemoth, is re-entering the India market after a nearly three-year ban, with the assistance of a strategic alliance with Reliance Retail. Chinese-founded online fast-fashion giant SHEIN won approvals to re-enter India only after agreeing to a stringent licensing deal with Mukesh Ambani's Reliance Industries Ltd. The agreement, which comes three years after SHEIN was booted out of India, will require the retail arm of Reliance to fully own the domestic business, while Singapore headquartered SHEIN will offer production support and training to over 25,000 small and mid-sized local suppliers so they can produce for Shein-branded products globally.

WHY INDIAN GOVERNMENT IS NOT AGAINST THIS COLLABORATION?

1. New Delhi is intent upon keeping Shein at arm's length while seeking to leverage its know-how to build up India's own manufacturing expertise.
2. Prime Minister Narendra Modi is bent on turning the South Asian nation into an alternative manufacturing hub amid growing global concern about over-reliance on China in supply chains.
3. India has said it wants to more than double its annual exports to $2 trillion by the end of the decade.
4. India's approval of the Shein-RRVL partnership aligns with the country's focus on fostering domestic economic growth, local production, job creation, and tax revenue generation. In turn, the partnership with RRVL allows Shein to distance itself from political scrutiny.

CONCLUSION :

Due to SHEIN's comeback in India, which is a giant behemoth in online fashion industry would companies like NYKAA, MYNTRA, MEESHO, etc. will face challenges or the SHEIN itself would fail to re-enter successfully in India due to its origin from China (consider as Chinese app). But there are chances, that SHEIN might gain popularity due to growing obsession of Indian youth towards Chinese and Korean culture.
